

Write a story about the very first day of summer break.

Imagine you can talk to fish—what do they tell you?

Create a story about a summer carnival where rides float in the air.

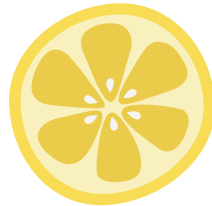

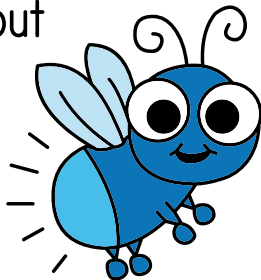

What would happen if the sun never set in June?

Write about a silly adventure with your best friend at the park.

Imagine you could live in an ice cream cone house.

Write a story about a firefly that refuses to glow.

What if every day in June rained lemonade instead of water?

Imagine you could surf on clouds—where would you go?

Write a story about a lizard who always wants to wear sunglasses.

What would happen if you planted a seed and it grew into a playground?

Imagine you are a lifeguard and one day you save a mermaid.
