

Write a story about fireworks that come to life.

Imagine your family's July 4th picnic is interrupted by aliens.

What would happen if the swimming pool turned into Jell-O?

Write a story about a watermelon that talks.

Imagine you could fly like a kite—where would you go?

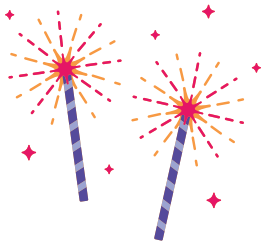

Write about a baseball game where the bats really fly.

What would happen if every ice cream cone melted into a rainbow?

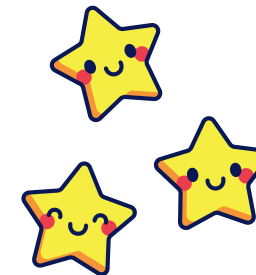

Imagine you are a seagull flying over the beach.

Write a story about a giant sandcastle that becomes a hotel.

What would happen if sparklers could talk?

Imagine a parade where the floats are alive.

Write about a camping trip where the stars tell you stories.
