

Imagine your backpack has magical powers—what does it do?

What is your favorite thing about starting a new school year?

What would happen if your teacher turned into a robot?

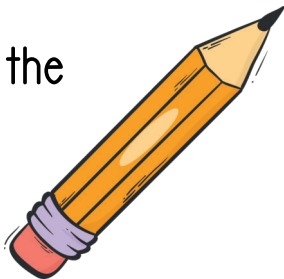

Write about a field trip where the school bus flies instead of drives.

Imagine your desk has a secret button—what happens when you press it?

Write a story about a lunchbox that packs itself.

Describe your favorite part of the school day.

What do you look forward to most in the fall?

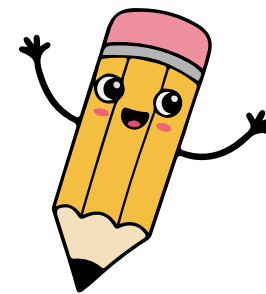

Write a story about meeting a ghost on the playground.

What would happen if your school turned into a giant maze?

Write a story about a classroom pet that escapes.

Imagine your pencil could draw things that come alive.
